Marching Thorobreds advance in Simon Kenton finals

The Harrison County Marching Thorobreds performed at the second annual Simon Kenton Band Classic on Saturday, Oct. 6.

A solid preliminary performance placed the band at the top of Class A where it took caption awards for best Musical Performance, Best Visual Performance, and Best General Effect.

The band was in fifth place overall at the end of the preliminary round. In finals, the band had an amazing performance and jumped one place to fourth overall, beating a much bigger and very talented Conner High School Band.

"We were only .6 of a point away from being third in this contest," said director John Merz. "We were ahead of both Conner and Westerville North (the Class AAA winner) in music performance, but fell just short on the visual end. It was very, very close."

The scores from the color guard and percussion sections also improved, as did their overall placements. The SK Classic is a Mid-States Band Association contest where bands are classified by the number of musicians. The MSBA Class A Championships will be held at Norwood High School on Saturday, Nov. 3.

Three barns burn overnight in western part of county

By BECKY BARNES, Editor

"We have a fire bug," said Charles Allen Carson of the Harrison County Fire Department following three barn fires overnight on Tuesday into Wednesday.

Those four bring the total to 13 for Harrison and Nicholas counties over the last week.

Carson said Kentucky State Police arson investigator Curtis Combs has been called in to sift through what remains of the burned buildings.

On Monday night, firefighters were called to the Harrison/Nicholas County line for two fires, one of which was in Harrison County and belonged to Avi Bear.

On Wednesday, the first call came in at 2:04 a.m. to KY 1842 between KY 36 and White Oak Pike. The barn was fully involved, Carson said.

Inside the barn were three tractors, new tobacco baler and it was full of curing tobacco.

"All of it's gone," Carson said.

While on the scene of the first fire, a Harrison County firefighter went to the Connersville fire station to get another truck and noticed another fire at 2:07 a.m. on KY 3044 near the Scott County line. The third call was on Connersville Pike, just about a mile down the road. That call was at 2:16 a.m.

"All of them had tobacco, two of them had hay and equipment," Carson said, adding that the majority of the fires were close to the road. With the exception of one old house, the rest have been barns or out-buildings.

Carson said investigators are concerned that the firestarter is getting bolder.

The first fires were of old and vacant buildings. More recently, Carson said, he has stepped up his fires to barns with valuable equipment and crops.

"It's getting scary," Carson said. "What are they going to do next?"

Lincoln Clifford

Clifford chosen for national convention

By BEN HYATT, News Writer

A Harrison County beef cattle farmer looks to learn a few tricks at a mid-west youth leadership convention.

Only five from Kentucky will make their way to Nebraska for the Nebraska Youth Beef Leadership Symposium and Harrison County Senior Lincoln Clifford will be filling one of those spots.

According to Clifford, Harrison County Ag. teacher Todd Brannock encouraged him to submit an application to be chosen for the event, which will be held in Lincoln Neb., Nov. 2-5.

"A friend of mine had told me about the trip and about how much fun he had on it," said Clifford. "I figured that at the least it would be a great opportunity to learn more about current issues in the beef industry."

Clifford said he was required to travel to Lexington for a face-to-face interview during the selection process.

"The great part about this experience is that I am sharpening skills and I have not even gone on the trip yet," said Clifford.

Once Clifford was selected to be part of the Kentucky team that will travel in November, Clifford said he tried to set his mind right for the trip.

"It is a great opportunity to learn more about the industry that I hope to hold a job in one day," said Clifford.

Special election, 4th, 6th district races confusing

By BECKY BARNES, Editor

Voting on Nov. 6 may be confusing if voters haven't done their homework.

As if the congressional district split wasn't enough, voters will be filling an unexpired term of 4th Congressional District Rep. Geoff Davis, said Harrison County clerk Linda Furnish.

Davis was elected in 2005 and resigned his seat in July 2012, citing family health reasons.

Pig roast to raise funds for 9/11 memorial

By BEN HYATT, NEWS WRITER

The Harrison County Fire Protection District will be hosting a pig roast in order to raise money for the Harrison County 911 Memorial. According to the Harrison County Fire Protection District, the $25,000 goal, which is needed for the construction of the 911 monument, has yet to be met through donations. In an effort to continue raising money for the project, a pig roast will be sponsored by the district on Friday, Oct. 26, from 11 a.m. until 9 p.m., on the Harrison County Courthouse Lawn. Meal tickets for the event cost $10 and will include one pork sandwich with chips and drink. Those purchasing meal tickets will automatically be entered for a door prize drawing where several items including a pair of UK basketball tickets, gas cards, $100 gift card to Walmart, restaurant certificates and many other prizes will be given away. The pork barbecue will be prepared by Harrison County Judge-Executive Alex Barnett. Tickets are available by contacting the Harrison County Fire Protection District Office at 234-9840 or D&M Small Engine Repair at 234-9421. Additional raffle tickets may be purchased as well. Winners do not have to be present for the drawing. The Harrison County Fire Protection District is also still accepting donations for the building of the 911 monument which will eventually display the nearly 1,000 pound I-beam from the World Trade Center. All donations made to the monument construction are tax deductible. To make a donation, make checks payable to Harrison County Fire Protection District c/o 9/11 Memorial Fund. Money should be sent to P.O. Box 811 Cynthiana KY, 41031.

"My goal, other than to build my resume, is to add to my knowledge and bring it back with me to my community to share with others." Clifford said he hopes to one day work as a field representative for one of the many breeds of beef cattle as well as continuing work on the family farm. "I could think of nothing better than to get paid to hang out at stockyards and work on the farm," laughed Clifford. "It is what I have always enjoyed and hopefully this is just another experience that I have as I work toward that very goal." Clifford is the son of Harrison County farmer Ben and Jane Clifford. Clifford will graduate next spring and plans to continue working on his family's farm in the Sunrise area as well as pursue a job in the beef industry.

While the details of the incident are not all that important at this time, thoughts and prayers go out to those friends and family members who will forever be burdened with the untimely loss.

As for my main point of this week's column, I would like to focus toward what I feel continues to be an ongoing issue among society.

This week I unfortunately came across a rather lengthy and pointless discussion thread on Facebook.

In the thread, a woman asked a well-known Harrison County teen to come speak at the local middle school in an effort to address possible bullying issues that may have played a role in the young 14-year-old's decision.

I am sure that nothing negative was meant by asking this person to come address an evident issue.

Ben Hyatt
News Writer

However, why must people talk on social sites about such personal issues.

Every single morning I too log onto Facebook, but for different reasons than letting the world know my life's story.

I first turn to the home page of the breeder where my giant schnauzer came from to see what is going on in the world of dog showing.

By the way congrats to my dog's litter mate Tank for finishing his championship points at 10 months of age.

I then respond to any messages that I may have from friends and then scoff at all the silly requests that people send to join different groups.

Finally, I click on the home page in order to read all of the ridiculous and overly personal posts.

It is fine if you wish to put day-to-day events that involve your kids or current pictures of your family members. That to me is a positive use of Facebook.

I enjoy seeing pictures of my friend's kids and funny comments about everyday life.

However, it disgusts me when I see post after post of nothing but negativity.

Here is the news flash for all negative posters, if you think the world wants to hear all about the negativity in your life, you are sorely mistaken.

Facebook is certainly not the venue for hurtful rumors and pity parties to be circulated.

I can understand a post stating a sickness or asking prayers for family members but some personal things should be kept off Facebook.

Why would anyone start a conversation about how a young woman took her life and then state it was only by rumor that bullying had anything to do with the incident?

I hate rumors. They are hurtful and Facebook is full of them.

What people fail to realize is that society is brain dead in thinking that whatever they read on social media sights like Facebook is automatically correct.

So why post about things that you are unsure of?

Have some decency in what you post.

There is an icon that allows you to send private messages. Some things should remain private.

Let's raise the question of if it had been your child, would you want to read a bunch of ridiculous posts about an irrelevant subject that involved your child?

There was a time when people were more cautious about what they allowed in the public. However, with new technology being made available everyday those times will never be seen again.

So, I encourage everyone to use the 10 second rule.

If you think before posting and it takes the full 10 seconds to decide whether is appropriate or not then you probably should not post it or even say it.

Those who can't differentiate between ignorant and decent posts I guess will have to continue to be talked about in private.

Tea Party appreciates debate support

To the editor:

The Harrison County Tea Party thanks the more than 60 people that attended the debates held at the Extension Office on Sept. 30. This is a prime example of how a non-partisan organization that focuses on today's issues can help provide information to the community for the upcoming Nov. 6 election. Special appreciation is extended to: candidates Tom McKee, Bryan Lutz, Bill Adkins, and Andy Barr; Moderator Amber Philpott; WCYN, Chris Winkle and Doug Miller; Ben Hyatt, Cynthiana Democrat; and the Harrison County Extension office.

The Harrison county Tea Party is a 150-plus member grass roots organization made up of registered Democrats, Republicans, and Independents with a shared belief in: adherence to: the US Constitution, governmental fiscal responsibility, and smaller less intrusive government that emphasizes free enterprise at the local, state, and national levels.

The Tea party meets monthly on the third Tuesday at 7 p.m. at the Faith Baptist educational building, US 27 South. All citizens regardless of political affiliation are welcome.

Parks and Recreation issue stirs heated debate at fiscal court

By BEN HYATT, NEWS WRITER
A heated discussion arose among Harrison County Fiscal Court members during the first reading of the new Parks and Recreation ordinance Tuesday night.
Like many past controversial discussions facing the fiscal court, the proposed Parks and Recreation issue stirs lengthy discussions and debates every time it is brought up.
Perhaps the strongest opponent of Parks and Recreation on the fiscal court, Bradley Copes, continues to argue the issue of potential higher budgeting needed in order to operate the proposed Parks and Recreation.

Copes argued that Parks and Recreation will cost county taxpayers much more and deliver little to no benefits to the county.
“Good luck getting anyone involved in any new recreation,” said Copes. “Recreation simply is not what it once was.”
Parks and Recreation committee members Missy Lutz and Frank

Henson countered Copes’ argument by saying that Harrison County offers no recreation for anyone past the ages of 12.
“Frankly, I could care less at this point but one of two things needs to happen. We either develop the park (Flat Run Veterans’ Park) and offer something for everyone or sell it and use the money for something else,” said Henson.
After the first reading of the ordinance, which will establish Parks and Recreation, County Attorney Bradley Vaughn informed the court that he had received a letter on behalf of Mayor Steve Moses asking for a change in the ordinance.

“The mayor is asking that the 50/50 split between the county and city be dropped from the ordinance as well as a few other small changes,” explained Vaughn.
The court members agreed that the request should not be met and a call for a vote was called with Copes, Brad Marshall and Larry Wells voting “no.”
Motion passed.

State Rep. Tom McKee was also present during the fiscal court meeting to present a $300,000 check to the court.
The $300,000 was used earlier this year for the repair and repaving of Pedro Pike and Shaw Lane.
“On behalf of the fiscal court we want to thank you Mr. McKee for the continued support that you bring to Harrison County,” said County Judge-Executive Alex Barnett. “The money went to a good cause and the roads look great.”

Also discussed was the need to extend the contract between the county and Legacy Carting for county trash removal.
A vote was made to extend the contract for two years.
Finally, Barnett informed the court that the county surplus auction will be held at the county barn on Nov. 2. Barnett also reminded the court that the next meeting, Oct. 23, will be held in Berry at 7 p.m.

Veterans eligible for license designation
The Kentucky Transportation Cabinet has received reports from numerous circuit clerk offices of misunderstanding about how veterans can obtain a driver’s license imprinted with the newly authorized “Veteran” designation, which became available on Monday, Sept. 24.

Kentucky veterans who wish to have the designation must present form DD214 - the Department of Defense form that verifies service - at the office of the circuit court clerk when renewing licenses.
Important points:
• The licenses are not free. A veteran will pay the usual $20 renewal fee.
• However, veterans who renewed licenses between July 12, 2012, when the law authorizing the Veteran designation became effective, and Sept. 24, 2012, when the designation became available, can obtain a replacement without paying the standard $12 fee for a duplicate license. The fee for duplicate is waived for those veterans - and those veterans only. The waiver expires Dec. 31, 2012.
• Veterans who have not yet renewed can request the Veteran designation at license renewal time. The renewal fee is $20.
• Veterans who have not yet renewed, and who wish to obtain a license with the Veteran designation before their renewal date, may do so but must pay the $12 fee of a duplicate license.
In all cases, veterans must present form DD214 at the circuit clerk’s office to obtain a license with the Veteran designation.

Counselors at middle school following death of classmate

By BEN HYATT, NEWS WRITER
Funeral services were held Wednesday, Oct. 10, at Ware Funeral Home for the Harrison County Middle School student who took her own life last week..
According to the Harrison County Sheriff’s Department, Brandi Dawn Ballinger, 14, was discovered by her mother outside their residence on Bowman’s Mill Road Thursday, Oct. 4.
“The mother called 911 after she discovered her daughter laying in the front yard with a family owned pistol near her body,” said Detective Paul Olin.

According to Olin, Ballinger suffered a self-inflicted gunshot wound but was still alive at the time she was found.
First responders arrived on scene where they worked to stabilize Ballinger while an emergency helicopter was called in to transport her to UK Hospital.
“The young girl was transported to UK the same night of the incident where she was placed in an Intensive Care Unit,” explained Olin. “Unfortunately, the young girl passed away Saturday, Oct. 6.”
Olin said a note was left behind by Ballinger leading authorities to believe that the incident was caused by a number of factors.

“Bullying played less of a role than other factors,” said Olin. “The investigation so far has lead us to believe there was little to no recent bullying problems for the young girl.”
Olin said due to rumor and social media, the bullying aspect has been magnified, which contradicts evidence found by the Sheriff’s Office.
“I cannot understand why issues like this lead to rumor and people talking about it on social media sites,” said Olin. “It is a problem in society that continues to lead to an assortment of issues that could be avoided.”

Harrison County Assistant Superintendent DeeGee Fischer said additional counselors were brought in Friday, Saturday evening and Monday for students to speak with.
“Our hearts and prayers go out for the family,” said Fischer. “It is always sad when we lose one of our students.”
Fischer said additional counseling will be made in the future for any student needing additional help coping with the sudden loss.

Chestnut weevil thwarts this year's harvest

A Voice-Tribune reader recently asked about the worms in her chestnuts; well, I am afraid I am in the same boat.

We have chestnut weevils. I love our nut grove for a multitude of reasons: It shelters our meat chickens that are ranging freely in its shade; the sheep graze and even munch on fallen nut meat. In other areas we collect pecans and Chinese chestnuts among other offerings.

The pecans are clean as a whistle this year, but the chestnuts are a bust.

In the first half of the 20th century the American chestnut tree, Castanea dentata, was devastated by a fungus that is now referred to as chestnut blight.

By 1950 nearly all of the American Chestnuts in the eastern part of the United States were dead, totaling about 3.5 million trees.

The American chestnut, valued for its nuts and its straight rot-resistant timber, is a rare sight in America today.

As a result, most Americans have probably never even seen a chestnut tree and if they have it may seem like some exotic species.

There is not much of a contemporary commer-

Jeneen Wiche

Columnist
www.SwallowRailFarm.com

cial chestnut industry in America, however, the Chinese chestnut is a good alternative for nut production because it is blight resistant and produces an abundance of nuts.

Ironically, it is the Chinese chestnut that introduced the chestnut blight in the early 1900's that devastated its American cousin.

And, it is the Chinese chestnut that is being crossbred and back-bred with the American chestnut to introduce blight resistant genes into the American tree.

We are beginning to see the reintroduction of blight resistant American chestnuts after 30 years of research and breeding.

Back to the Chinese chestnut, or Castanea molissima.

The Chinese chestnut is best used in an orchard or grove setting because the late spring blooms have somewhat of a rancid smell, not something you want around your patio.

The tree reaches a maximum size of 30-50 and has a more multi-stemmed spreading habit.

The attractive foliage is long, narrow and pointed, reminiscent of the American chestnut.

Chestnuts prefer well-drained, deep acid soil in a full-sun location.

You can expect your first nut harvest after five years and a consistent reliable harvest after 10 years.

Showtime begins in mid-September through mid-October because this is when the nuts begin to ripen and fall from the tree.

From personal experience, I think the chestnut is the easiest of nuts to harvest, cure and process.

Wait for the spiny hulls to turn brown and fall from the tree because it is best to harvest the nuts as they fall to the ground.

Visit the tree every two to three days and collect what has fallen, wearing thick gloves because the spiny hulls are very, very sharp.

If you want to roast your chestnuts straight away, you will need to cure them in a well-ventilated space, out of direct sunlight, for about four days.

Chestnuts are high in starch and water (low in fat for a nut) and the nut needs a couple of days for the starches to convert to sugar.

If you are going to put the nuts in cold storage you can skip the curing process because the starch-to-sugar conversion will take place over a longer period of time if stored in a zip lock baggy in the refrigerator.

Roasting over a fire is definitely the best way to prepare chestnuts, but you can also use your stovetop or oven. Score all but one with a cross on the flat side of the nut and place on a cookie sheet and roast at about 350 until the un-scored nut pops open.

Since we have the weevil problem our best bet is to remove all chestnuts from the area to remove the larvae and the opportunity for them to reenter the soil beneath the tree and start the cycle again.

The weevil in its adult stage looks like a little beetle with a long snout and begins laying its eggs in the nuts in June when the tree begins to bloom; I am going to move the meat chickens into the area just prior to see if they may help lessen the pest load.

Deitemeyer to host November meeting

Preceptor Omega Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met at the home of Charlene Dawson on Oct. 1. Nine members were in attendance with two absent.

Cindy Warr was a guest speaker. She is a development director for Refuge for Women. This is a faith-based organization that helps women leave the sex industry. Harrison County will be opening a shelter for the organization by the end of the year. Aimee Davis accompanied Warr and is a member of Xi Delta Pi chapter and introduced Warr.

The program presented by Patsy Barnett, with the title "You Are Among Friends" came from the theme title for the year. She introduced us to some new friends when she told us how important good bugs were for the environment. Barnett did a lot of research and printed a booklet for each of the members. She reminded everyone that friends can be many different things, depending on the circumstances.

Preceptor Omega members and their husbands will be attending the fall races at Keeneland on Oct. 15.

October will be a busy month as the group will be working at the Elks Bingo on Oct. 15 to earn money for the scholarship that is presented to a graduating senior girl.

The November meeting will be held at the home of Nancy Deitemeyer with Barbara Snopek in charge of the cultural program.

After secret sister thanks and the closing ritual, an apple dessert was served by the hostess.

TIGER FUN DAY. Members of Troop 76 assisted Blue Grass Council with the Tiger Fun Day held at the Pavilion Oct. 6. Pictured are Henry DeRolf, Drew Dorsey, and Timmy Lail. Activities for the Tigers (Cub Scouts) included swimming, a relay obstacle course, steal the bacon, parachute, and a huge banana split.

Hospice volunteer training session to be held Oct. 19

Volunteering does a person good

Many people choose to live in small-town America to get away from the hustle and bustle of big-city life. One of the great advantages of living Harrison County's of the world is that old-time tradition of neighbors helping neighbors, and often, strangers helping strangers.

The lifeblood of Hospice of the Bluegrass is the volunteer who give of their time, energy, and talents to ease the pain of terminally ill patients and families by donating their services. Those services could include driving a patient to doctor's appointments, sitting with patient while family members are away, mowing grass, installing an air conditioner, changing light bulbs, helping with special events, clerical work, or any of a myriad of other chores or errands that would ease the burden on the patient and family.

The Hospice of the Bluegrass in Cynthiana currently serves 115 patients in Harrison, Scott, Bourbon, Nicholas and southern Grant Counties.

When a patient is referred to Hospice of the Bluegrass, that patient can expect the best care available in a team approach. That team consists of the patient and family, physician, registered nurses, social workers, certified nursing assistants, chaplain, bereavement counselor, and volunteers.

Harrison County is desperately in need of volunteers who can take care of the non-medical tasks that tend to build up and make life more stressful.

There are no magical qualities that a person must have to become a Hospice volunteer, just that feeling of compassion for your neighbor who is in need. There are also no age limits on being a Hospice volunteer.

Hospice does require a training session before volunteers can be put to work. A training session is approaching for Harrison County, Friday, Oct. 19. The course will run from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Hospice of the Bluegrass Office, 1317 US Hwy. 62 E, Cynthiana. Registration is required. For more information contact Kelly Kendall at the Hospice of the Bluegrass Office in Cynthiana at either 234-6462 or 800-756-6005 or kkendall@hospicebg.org.

Mary Henson Circle to host ladies of the church at November gathering

The Mary Henson Circle of the Elmarsh United Methodist Church met Tuesday, Oct. 3 at the church. Pauline Copes, president, called the meeting to order.

Judy Richie, devotional speaker, gave a lesson on prayer: "Five Finger prayer" is a simple pray that you can remember by looking at hour hand. Each finger represents a group of people.

After lunch, Copes opened the business meeting. Minutes were read and approved. Roll call was taken with nine members present. The treasurer's report was given and the Circle netted $174 from the White Elephant sale in September.

The Circle will host the ladies of the church for Thanksgiving at the November meeting.

Person of the Month was Phyllis Grayson. Bad girls this month were, Mona Lucky, Judy Richie, Nikki Richie and Ruth Reffett.

Reffett dismissed with prayer.

CLASS OF 1964

The Harrison County High School Class of 1964 is getting ready for their annual reunion. This year it will be on Oct. 20 at Biancke's Restaurant. If you come for dinner, we will be in the back room at 5 p.m. We'll order from the menu and everybody will pay for their own meal.

After dinner, at approximately 6:30 p.m., we'll move to the patio and bar areas to socialize. You may want to attend both the dinner and social hours, but if you wish to attend only one, that's okay, too. We hope to see you there.

Please let us know if you're coming so that we can give Biancke's our best guesstimate of how many to expect for dinner. Contact Bonnie Teater at 234-6389 or Phyllis Wyles at 234-3599.

Can we be angry with God?

Here's a question for you: Is it wrong to be angry with God?

Most of us who are afraid of lightning bolts frying our faces off or earthquakes rattling our brains and opening the earth to swallow us whole would probably say yes.

God is God and Creator and we are very much not God. That said, can we be honest? Sometimes God does stuff — or doesn't do stuff — that ticks us off.

A friend once told me about a time when his life was crumbling and he stood outside in the thunder and lightning and rain, yelling his fool head off at the Almighty. As the lightning flashed all around him, my friend started taunting God. "Is that the best you've got?"

Is it wrong to be angry with God?

Right at this moment I'm not, but the subject caught my attention after listening to a podcast interview with Susan Isaacs, comedienne and author of "Angry Conversations With God: A Snarky But Authentic Spiritual Memoir."

The book grew out of a comedy sketch she wrote in which she takes God to couples therapy. He shows up in a toga and they get into an argument. She says he's gone too much; he says she doesn't give him quality time. She accuses him of seeing other people.

Lest you think Isaacs is a God hater, she's not. When she wrote the sketch she had been seeing a therapist herself after suffering through a year from hell. In 2003 her dad died and her mom had a stroke. Her acting career in New York tanked so she moved to L.A. where it didn't do much better.

Meanwhile, her four

best friends in New York all got huge acting breaks and then all four of them got married that summer just as she and her almost-fiancé broke up. Then, as if that wasn't bad enough, shortly after the break up she was in New York, a city of mega millions of people, in a park where she spotted her ex-boyfriend making out with some woman.

Just prior to that, she had asked God to give her a "sign of hope." The friend she was with in the park told her, "See, there's your sign! Your ex has moved on and so should you."

Isaacs replied, "No, that's a sign that God had moved on from me. He hates me."

She admitted that her heartbreak was "middle-class, white-girl tragedy," but what else can you expect from a middle-class white girl?

However, she said, the biggest tragedy was God's silence, his "moving on" from her. That's when she decided to take God to couples counseling and unload all her anger on him. She told her own therapist, "Either God isn't personal and I've wasted my time with him or he is personal and he hates me."

The therapist gave her a third option: "Or, God loves you but crappy things still happen."

Isaacs said for her to adopt that option it would mean letting go of God as a mean bad guy who hated her. She would have to stop blaming him for her misery.

I get that. It's so much easier and enjoyable to blame others, especially God because he's an easy target. Blaming him makes you feel all victim-y and you can get people to feel sorry for you and feed your self-pitifulness.

It took a while for Isaacs to grasp that God hadn't moved on, that he hadn't found someone new, that he didn't hate her, despite her life falling apart.

She also discovered that God didn't abandon her when she was most angry. On the contrary, he actually seemed to draw closer. She discovered that God already knows when we're angry and he knows the hurt that's behind it. He knows that it comes from confusion and disappointment and that it's because we see life with blinders on, one small slice of history at a time, while he sees it all, from eternity past to eternity future.

He also knows that one day everything that goes wrong will one day be made right.

Being angry with God is part of the human experience. Thankfully, so is the mercy and grace God extends to his people even as we hurl our insults at him and drag him off to therapy.

We should all be fried on the spot, but we're not.

OPERATION CHRISTMAS CHILD is in full swing as churches across Harrison County work together to meet this years goal of 3,000 packed boxes. Each shoe box, packed with various items including toiletries, stuffed animals and devotions, will be all that some children open Christmas morning. "This ministry has touched the lives of so many," said project coordinator Dawn Arnold. "From the children to the ones who work hard to prepare the boxes. It gives hope to those who have none." Anyone interested in participating in Operation Christmas Child should contact Arnold at 588-0339.

To fill Davis’ term, a special election will be added to the general election. The successful candidate will be sworn in immediately to serve through Dec. 31. Then the winner of the general election will serve.

The catch, Furnish said, is that everyone in Harrison County will vote for the unexpired term of the 4th Congressional District because all of Harrison County was part of that district during the initial election.

However, for the general election portion of the ballot, Harrison Countians are split. Of the county’s 12,784 registered voters, 7,851 will vote in the 4th Congressional District and the remaining 4,933 will be voting for the 6th Congressional District representative, according to September figures, which are changing daily.

The last day to register to vote is Oct. 30.

On the ballot for the special election are Thomas Massie (R), William R. “Bill” Adkins (D) and David Lewis (I). Those three will also be on the ballot for the 4th Congressional race in the general election.

The 6th Congressional District candidates are Garland “Andy” Barr (R), Ben Chandler (D) and Randolph Vance (I).

“People just need to be informed,” Furnish said. “The ballot is really not that big,” Furnish said. “There are a few uncontested local races.”

Commonwealth Attorney Doug Miller is seeking re-election with no opposition. Harrison County Circuit Clerk Kathy Kearns is also unopposed.

In their respective school districts Kristy Carey, Gary Lizer and Edwin d. Taylor Jr. are also running uncontested.

Cynthiana residents will be choosing four commissioners from five candidates. On the ballot will be Billy Grayson, Amanda S. Moore, John M. Jack Keith, Roger Slade and Gary Brunker. Moore has served previously, but is not on the current commission. Berry residents will be filling four seats with four candidates -- Alexa D. Biddle, Patricia Adams, George Keith Ison and Timothy A. Fairfield. However, there is one official write-in candidate in Berry, Nettie Ruth Adams.

Vying for the 78th Representative District are incumbent Tom McKee (D) and Bryan Lutz (R).

On page 12, voters can view a map that should help them determine where they will vote and which Congressional District they will be electing.

6th Congressional District numbers are in white, 4th Congressional District numbers are black. See Cynthiana map for city districting details.

Breds offense offensive in 14-0 loss to Holmes Friday

By MIKE ALDRIDGE, Sports Writer

Forty-four total yards and five first downs will not win many if any games. Yet that was the total output for the Harrison County Thorobreds Friday night in the homecoming battle with the Covington Holmes Bulldogs.

Homecoming Queen Kaitlyn Gooden and King Todd Vaughn ruled over the Friday night festivities that featured improved play for the Thorobreds, especially defensively, but in the end the Breds could not score and the Bulldogs scored twice.

"We just didn't block them for whatever reason," bemoaned Coach Jim Carr. "Our defense played very well especially some of the younger guys. Jovon (Williams) shut down their best receiver who is supposed to be one of the best in the state, Brock Jenkins, Robbie Stroub, Spencer Covington, Tank (James) McCall, Zach Royce and Zack Mastin all stood out on defense but our offense just did not get the job done. We will be hard at work on Monday to improve the offense and to keep improving the defense."

The Bulldogs scored on their first possession after the Breds were three and out following the kick off.

Harrison County started in a hole when the kickoff to open the game was only returned to the 9-yard line. The punt by Daniel Klapheke just put Holmes on the Harrison County 36 but it took the Bulldogs 11 plays to drive the ball down and score on a DeSean Peterson 7-yard run with six minutes left in the opening period.

The extra point made it 7-0 and that is where the score stayed for the next 15 possessions.

Harrison County had only one first down in the first half and Holmes had only three after the opening drive.

The Bulldogs did threaten to score at the end of the first period but had to give up the ball on downs on the Harrison County 15-yard line.

Holmes took the second half kickoff and returned it to the Harrison County 48-yard line. But the Breds defense caused a three-and-out taking the rock over on their own 33.

From there, a run by Brandon Morris and one by Zack Mastin gave the Thorobreds a first down on the 43. However, a fumble on the next play ended the abbreviated drive and the Bulldogs took possession.

The Breds defense again held and the Holmes punter placed the kick on the Harrison County 3-yard line to put the Thorobreds deep in their own territory.

A Stroub to Elijah Gross pass took the ball out to the 30 but that was all the Breds could muster and they again had to kick the ball away.

After the two teams exchanged possessions, the Bulldogs drove the ball on a six-play drive to open the fourth quarter but Jovon Williams intercepted a pass in the end zone to stop the Holmes advance.

Unfortunately Harrison County fumbled on the next play and three plays later Jamon Scruggs ran it in from nine yards out for the final 14-0 score.

Offensively, for the game, the Breds passing attack was only 3 of 18 for 34

Fillies end soccer regular season with a win and a tie, District Wednesday

The Harrison County Fillies soccer team finished the season with a victory over district rival Pendleton County and a tie with Lafayette as they ready themselves to begin district play Wednesday in Maysville.

St. Patrick is the district host and the Fillies face Mason County (5-9-1) at 5:30 p.m. on Oct. 10. The winner of that match will face either Pendleton County (7-11-1) or St. Patrick (6-10-1) on Saturday, Oct. 13 at 3:30 p.m. Pendleton County owns a regular season win over St. Patrick and figures to make it to the championship game.

Thorobreds spank Royals 6-nil, face Wildcats in district final Thursday

By MIKE ALDRIDGE, Sports Writer

"We got off to a slow start but quickly realized that Mason County was fighting for their life," noted soccer Coach Nick Hill following the Thorobreds victory. "We then stop trying to force the ball inside and passed better which led to easy goals."

The fact of the matter came quickly to Harrison County as senior stalwart Kyle Foster scored the first of his three goals on the night with an assist from Logan Wiley while 36:45 still remained in the first half. Wiley then scored an unassisted goal after only a minute more had gone by and the Breds led 2-nil with less than five minutes played.

Foster scored again with 10 minutes left on a ball that bounced off the goal keeper right back to him as the Breds kept constant pressure on the Royals in the first half.

Junior Grant Carr scored right in front of teammate Joe Thomas with 32 seconds left in the half for the Breds as both Harrison County players were closer to the ball than any Royal defender.

The game became a little unseemly as far as skilled play goes for a while in the second half as some of Mason County's players seemed content to play rough without any offensive purpose.

Junior fullback Taylor Bolin broke the second half scoring drought with 25:56 to play when he beat the left side of the Royals defense with a left footed score.

Only a little more than a minute went by before Foster kicked the ball between the legs of his defender from the corner and really made the Royals' defense look silly with his

Volleyball season ends, Fillies drop 3-1 verdict to Lady Cats

The Harrison County Fillies volleyball team ended the season with a 14-18 record as they fell three sets to one to Pendleton County Tuesday night.

The opening round of the 38th District hosted, by Harrison County, first saw Deming defeat Nicholas County, 3-1, as the Lady Black Devils advance to the district championship game while the Lady Cats followed by defeating the Fillies, 3-1, as well.

The Fillies match featured four sets of spirited action. Neither of the teams could pull away to any significant leads before the other would cut into the margin and make a close match of the set.

The first set went to Pendleton County by a 25-19 score as outside hitters Sarah Schlueter and MacKenzie Horn found holes in the Fillies' defense especially between the front and back line.

The Fillies rallied to win the second set 25-23 as junior Jordan Doram repeatedly pounded the ball over the net

UK should follow Notre Dame's lead

A few weeks ago, The University of Notre Dame established a set up with the Atlantic Coast Conference that was a great deal for them as they get to have their cake and eat it too, so to speak.

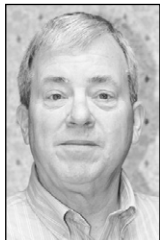

The South Bend Indiana University will play all sports in the ACC with the exception of football in which they will remain independent playing five games against ACC opponents, but not being involved in the conference rankings.

What a sweet deal for the Irish. When it comes to football, would you like to bet which teams from the ACC that the golden domers play?

The ACC is made up of Boston College, Clemson, Duke, Florida State, Georgia Tech, Miami of Florida, who the Irish just hammered 41-3 on Saturday, NC State, UNC, Wake Forest, Maryland, Virginia Tech and Virginia.

Year in and year out, the only schools in this group that will be in Notre Dame's class will be Florida State and Clemson as far as wins and losses go.

I can see games with Duke, Maryland, Virginia, Wake Forest and maybe Georgia Tech as regular staples to the Notre Dame diet.

Mike Aldridge
Sports Writer

The Fighting Irish have some traditional rivalry games with Southern California, Purdue and either Michigan or Michigan State which will have to be "sacrificed" in order to work the ACC schools into the schedule.

But that is the arrangement and more power to them for working it out with the ACC. The same deal was offered to the Big Ten but was not agreed to by that conference who wanted all sports or none.

Now here comes the part where I think the University of Kentucky should make an offer to the Southeastern Conference.

The Wildcat leadership could say that they will play basketball (men's and women's) only in the conference that they dominate.

Then they could take their other sports programs and put them into conferences where they fit in better.

Considering travel and weather conditions and such as that the University of Kentucky is far better suited for the Big Ten.

Granted the University of Tennessee and Vanderbilt are relatively close but after that the travel and the weather become issues.

Travel to some of the Big Ten schools would be a little difficult but in the long run about the same as the SEC schools.

The weather for baseball would be much more similar to Lexington weather which has long been an advantage for the southern SEC schools.

When it is 40 degrees in April here it is 85 in Florida so they play many more games in much better conditions.

Football would be much better suited for the Big Ten.

Who among you don't think that, in most years, Kentucky would be more competitive against Illinois, Indiana, Purdue, and Minnesota than they are against South Carolina, Auburn, Arkansas and Mississippi State?

Forget about playing Alabama, LSU, Florida, Georgia and Tennessee and make the games that can't be won against Ohio State, Michigan, Michigan State, Iowa and Wisconsin.

Some of you are thinking that with the current coaching staff and players being injured at an alarming rate that the University of Kentucky would be better off competing in the Ohio Valley or the Sun Belt Conference. But on a yearly basis, I believe that the Big Ten offers a more realistic scenario where the Wildcats could compete for the six wins and a bowl game now and then.

Harrison eighth graders roll at Clark, seventh loses

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer

The Harrison County Middle School seventh grade Colts lost against Clark Middle on Thursday night 24-8 in a game that opened with the home team running back the opening kick off for a score.

The seventh grade squad was out-manned in this game as the Clark Middle team featured some big, fast runners and a huge line.

Coaches Randolph Thomas and Eric Reed's charges did not give up though as after trailing 24-0 at the half, they came back and held Clark Middle scoreless in the final half.

The Colts got on the board with almost two minutes left in the game on a pass from Ben VanHook to Alex Midden and the two hooked up again on the point-after for the final 24-8 score.

Harrison County had driven down the field on another occasion but fumbled before they could score.

The loss dropped the seventh grade Colts' record to 2-5 with one game remaining Thursday night with Powell County.

The powerful eighth grade team improved their record to 6-1 Thursday as they scored through the air and on the ground in a 34-6 rout.

The Harrison County defense stifled the Clark Middle offense except for one long-scoring run in the second quarter by the big Clark Middle back.

Harrison County opened the scoring with a 49-yard pass play to Keishon Gilkey from Malcolm Walker with 3:54 left in the first quarter.

Luke Slucher ran it in for the two-point conversion and it was 8-0 Colts.

Quarterback Tanner Wells called his own number on a 5-yard scoring run early in the second period but the conversion failed and the Colts led 14-0.

Clark Middle ran the kick off back for their score five seconds later but failed on the conversion try to make the score 14-6.

Wells came back with a touchdown strike to Gilkey of 45 yards and then connected with Donnie Herrington for the points after making the half time score 22-6.

The half time talks from the coaching staffs had an opposite effect on the football teams.

Harrison County came out of the half time break on fire as they took the opening kick off and in 35 seconds Luke Slucher ran for a 25-yard touchdown gallop breaking tackles along the way.

The Colts' defense squashed the home squad on the next possession and took the ball over again as the fourth quarter began.

Slucher ran his second touchdown of the night in from 32 yards for the final 34-6 score. The time clock did not work again at the Winchester facility and the second half was much shorter than the first.

The Harrison County teams will host Powell County on Thursday night at Ingles Stadium for the special Eighth Grade Night game.

The playoffs begin on Oct. 18 with the pairings being determined after the games are completed on Thursday.

Harrison County cross country runners have solid outing in Coaches Classic

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer

Sixth Grader Zach Getting finished second of 52 runners in the Boys Grade Six and under division to highlight a good day overall for the Harrison County Cross Country team in the George Rogers Clark Coaches Classic Meet in Winchester on Saturday.

Getting's fellow sixth grader Corey Wagoner also ran in this race finishing 42nd.

The varsity boys team was fifth of the 13 teams in their classification with junior Grant Carr leading the way with a 13th place finish of the 94 runners.

Carr covered the 5000M in 18:29.

Coming in next for the Thorobreds in his personal best time was sophomore Austin Short who was 23rd in 19:01 in his first year of varsity competition.

Senior Joe Thomas was 29th in 19:33 followed by Ross Smith (37th) and Harry Smith (44th).

Also competing but not figuring into the scoring of the top five finishers were three runners who posted their personal bests on Saturday. Sophomore Shane Palmer, freshmen Travis Fry and Josh Getting each ran their fastest races ever for the Thorobreds on Saturday.

Senior Joey Faulconer, who is coming off a two-week injury, ran in the race but did not try to go full speed. Faulconer is pointing toward being fully recovered from his injury to give an all out performance in the region.

The Fillies also gave an all out performance as they were fourth of the five teams competing.

Junior Erin Bradford led the way with a 23rd place performance in 24:29.

Caylin Mattox had a personal best of 25:59 to finish in 31st place followed by senior Bailey Caudill who was 41st in 28:33.

Kayla Joy, Chelsea Bowman and Tamara Lunsford each had their personal best times as they wrapped up the Fillies scoring.

The Harrison County Middle School girls and boys each had three medalists in the 2500M middle school competition.

The girls did not have enough runners to compete for the team title but each of the three runners Samantha Wood (10th), Jesse Petty (11th) and Abby Cooper (13th) were among the top runners in

The Fillies defeated Mason County in a scrimmage but did not play the Lady Royals in the regular season. In last Wednesday's match at LeBus Field with the Lady Cats, the Fillies used freshman Amelia Bolin's goal to eke out a 1-nil win in a hard-fought physical game. Bolin took a pass from Randi Schweitzer for the goal and goal keeper Chelsea Ingram and the Fillies defense made the one goal stand for the victory. Thursday the Fillies traveled to Lexington and played Lafayette on the Lady Generals turf field. This was the third game in four days for the Fillies but the girls battled and fought hard the entire match just barely being turned away by the home goal keeper in the last minutes of the game. Ingram posted her ninth shutout of the season as the Fillies finished with a good 9-4-5 season record. "This is a very tough team mentally and physically which is indicated by playing this team to a tie, said Coach Kim Jenkins referring to Lafayette. "Anytime we can come to Lexington and have them holding on to tie us is a positive sign for the girls."

HCHS, HSMS wrestling practice to begin

Harrison County High School and Middle School Wrestling practice will begin Monday, Oct. 15. Practices are held at Southside Elementary School from 4:30-6:30. Any student in 6th through 12th grade is welcome to join. Harrison County Youth Wrestling practice will begin Thursday, Nov. 1. Youth practices are Tuesdays and Thursdays 6:30-7:30 at Southside Elementary School. For more information contact Luke Tucker (high school) 859-229-9910 or Barry Zumwalt (youth and middle school) 859-608-0494.

Fillies varsity basketball to host a clinic on Saturdays beginning Oct. 20

The Harrison County High School varsity basketball Fillies are hosting a clinic for girls K-5 on Saturday mornings beginning Oct. 20. The Saturday morning clinics will be held from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. for four Saturdays through Nov. 10. The cost for the clinic is $25 per participant, which includes the cost of a T-shirt and one-on-one instruction with current Fillies varsity players. The campers will also have individual instruction from the varsity coaching staff to help them improve on their basketball skills. There will be drills and competition that is geared for the different age groups. Registration forms are in each of the elementary schools for the clinic. For further information, contact Coach Kim Furnish at 859-234-7117 ext. 2224 or Kimberly.Furnish@harrison.kyschools.us.

Volleyball and Breds soccer close seasons with wins, host district

Senior Night and Pink Night on the Hilltop worked out well for the Harrison County volleyball Fillies as they rolled over Bourbon County (5-18) in four sets on Thursday night. The Fillies' seniors Alyssa Campbell, Kaitlyn Gooden, Christa Robinson, Michaela Smith, Yasmeen Smith, Rebecca Switzer and Katelyn Vaughn were able to close their senior regular season on a winning note in the 25-14, 25-17, 23-25 and 25-22 win over the Lady Colonels. The volleyball squad will host the 38th District tour-namment in the Hilltop Gym beginning Tuesday night when the Fillies will face the Pendleton County Lady Cats in the second game of the evening following the Deming versus Nicholas County match up. Pendleton County owns a three set victory over the Fillies and has a season record of 18-9 compared to the 14-17 mark the Fillies have compiled in a rebuilding year. The Thorobreds soccer team was also involved in a Senior Night as they were the opposition for Lexington Christian Academy Thursday for their festivities. This didn't work out as well for the LCA seniors as the Breds sealed a 1-0 victory to spoil the celebration. Goal keeper Christian Carey posted his sixth shutout of the year in this game where each team had multiple chances to score but only the one goal was recorded. Senior Kyle Foster drove a ball from the top of the 18 off a defenders foot into the net for the only score just before the half. The Thorobreds had to hold their ground defensively especially late in the game as the Eagles were desperate for a senior night victory and the game became extremely physical in the last 10 minutes. The win gives the Thorobreds a season mark of 10-6-1 while Lexington Christian finished a tough schedule at 3-11-1.

The Athletic Complex is the site of the 38th District Boys Soccer Tournament beginning Tuesday night, Oct. 9. Harrison County opens facing Mason County at 5:30 p.m. followed by Pendleton County and St. Patrick at 7:15 p.m. The Breds own an early season 10-nil victory over the Royals (8-10-2) while Pendleton County (8-12) defeated St. Patrick's (9-11-1) 7-nil in their regular season match up. The championship match is set for Oct. 11 at 6 p.m.

yards. The leading rusher for the Breds was Zack Mastin with 12 yards in 9 carries. Harrison County only committed three penalties for 26 yards and fumbled four times losing two of them. Holmes gained 230 yards, 11 through the air. They committed 14 penalties for 140 yards, only fumbled once and did not lose that one. Donshea Wilson was the Bulldogs leading ground gainer with 71 yards in 13 carries. The win improves the Bulldogs to 5-2 for the year while the Breds are 0-7. Harrison County next travels to Covington Catholic (5-2) for a Saturday afternoon game this Saturday at 1 p.m.

third goal. Both teams substituted liberally from this point as the scoring was over. Christian Carey recorded his seventh shutout of the year as he was only threatened on one occasion by the Royals. Freshman Travis Shuler came into goal for Carey with a little more than two minutes to play as he was able to gain some district tournament experience. The loss closes out Mason County's year at 8-11-2 while the Thorobreds improve to 11-6-1. Pendleton County improved to 8-11-1 as they mercy ruled St. Patrick (6-11-1) in the second contest of the night 10-nil. Harrison County and Pendleton County will battle Thursday night for the 38th District Championship. The two met in regular season only nine days earlier with the Thorobreds winning 3-1.

with smashes that could not be returned. Pendleton County was not to be denied though as they won the next two sets 25-18 and 25-23 to finish the night. The last set featured a Fillies' rally led by Doram and senior outside hitter Yasmeen Smith, but in the end, the senior play of Schlueter and Horn and the smashes of junior Samantha Rering were too much to overcome. "We played with a lot of emotion tonight," said

Coach Bill Faulkner. "It just seemed like whenever the score was close, we couldn't come up with the big play and they did. I was proud of how our girls battled. It wasn't that long ago that we lost three straight sets to Pendleton County in sets that weren't this close." Pendleton County will now face Deming on Thursday night for the 38th District title. The two teams have met twice this season both won by Pendleton County, 2-0 and 3-1.

the girls' race. Will Marsh finished sixth of the 42 boys running in the middle school race. His time of 10:33 earned him a medal as did the 18th place finish of Ben Bradford and the 20th place finish of Daniel Craig. Jacob and Isaiah Brueggen along with Luke Bradford also ran for the Colts in the 2500M race. The Girls Grade Six and under team finished third of the five teams competing in the division. Robin Roberts was 7th overall in 7:38 for the 1600M race. Evie Barker was 13th in 8:06 followed by Starr Hindbaugh in 8:27, Mackenzie Mosig in 9:08 and Anna Moran in 9:27. There were fifty one runners in this event. The Harrison County Cross Country squad is taking the fall break week off to rejuvenate and prepare for the end of the season and the region race. "This is a good time for a little break for our runners to let them rest some and refocus on the running that needs to be done," said Coach Danny Simpson. "I like this team. They have shown the potential to run well and I am looking forward to the rest of the season." After the time off, the Harrison County Invitational is next on the schedule for the teams on Oct. 18 at the Cynthiana Country Club.

The property is being sold to produce a sum sufficient to satisfy the judgments and liens as follows: (a) The costs of this action, including the Master Commissioner's fee, appraiser's fee and advertising costs; and (b) Judgment for the Plaintiff, Farmers National Bank of Cynthiana, in the amount of $26,239.29, interest through April 27, 2012 in the amount of $640.94, with interest thereafter at the rate of $4.74 per diem until paid, late fees in the amount of $1,023.70 through April 27, 2012, plus any additional costs expended by Plaintiff to protect or preserve the property until sale date. (c) Real Estate taxes, plus interest and penalties, if any, for taxes assessed for the year 2011 and previous years. (d) Plaintiff's Court costs and attorney fees.

The property shall be sold upon the following terms and conditions: (1) The property shall be sold free and clear of all liens and claims of the parties to this action; (2) The purchaser shall be required to pay the sum of 10% of the purchase price in cash, certified funds or by other immediately verifiable collectable medium of exchange acceptable to the Commissioner, on the day of sale to apply on the purchase price; (3) The balance of the purchase price shall be due and payable within sixty (60) days after the day of sale; (4) The purchaser shall be required to execute a bond with good and sufficient surety thereon as approved by the Commissioner to secure the unpaid portion of the purchase price, the bond to bear interest at the rate of 12% per annum from the day of sale until paid, the bond to have the same force and effect as a judgment and shall remain a lien on the property as additional security until the purchase price is paid in full; (5) In the event that the Plaintiff is the successful purchaser, it shall be entitled to a credit on its judgment against the purchase price and shall only be obligated to pay court costs, the fees and costs of the Master Commissioner, and any real estate taxes payable pursuant to this order, and in that event, no bond shall be required; (6) The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all or any part of the purchase price or paying the bond before maturity by paying the balance of the principal together with all accrued interest thereon until the date of payment; (7) The purchaser shall obtain possession of the property upon confirmation of the sale by the Court and payment of the purchase price in full; (8) All ad valorem taxes on the property for calendar year 2012 and all subsequent years shall be assumed and paid by the purchaser. All real property taxes due and owing to Harrison County or the City of Cynthiana for 2011 and prior years will be paid from the proceeds of sale. (9) The property shall be sold subject to any assessment for public improvements levied against the property and subject to all rules and regulations enforced by the Cynthiana-Harrison County-Berry Joint Planning and Zoning Commission, all applicable health and safety regulations, all restrictions and easements thereon appearing of record in the Harrison County Court Clerk's Office, governmental laws and regulations affecting the property, and shall be subject to any unrecorded easements, discrepancies or conflicts in boundary lines, shortage in area and encroachments, if any there be, which an accurate and complete survey or an inspection of the property would disclose; (10) The purchaser shall bear the risk of loss on the improvements on the property and the risk of loss shall pass to the purchaser as of the day and time of sale; (11) The property shall be sold with any improvements thereon "as is"; and (12) The property shall be sold subject to such right of redemption as may exist in favor of the United States of America pursuant to 28 USC Section 2410, and the right of redemption of the Defendants.

All bidders will be required to provide these terms.

$0 DOWN, 0% A.P.R. FINANCING FOR UP TO 60 MONTHS* ON SELECT NEW KUBOTAS WITH NO PAYMENTS UNTIL APRIL 2013!

HAYDON EQUIPMENT INC.

40 Kentucky Hwy 392 • Cynthiana, KY

859-234-4621

* $0 down, 0% A.P.R. financing for terms up to 60 months on purchases of select new Kubota ZG, ZD, ZP, BX, B, L, M, TLB, K008, KX, U, and R Series from available inventory at participating dealers through October 31, 2012. "No payments until April 2013" does not mean any payments are waived. Contract balance will be spread over the remaining months in the term following the deferral period, and payments will vary depending on contract start date. Example: A 60-month contract term at 0% A.P.R. will require between 54-56 payments ranging from a minimum of $17.86 to a maximum of $18.52 per $1,000 borrowed. 0% A.P.R. interest is available to customers if no dealer documentation preparation fee is charged. Dealer charge for document preparation fee shall be in accordance with state laws. Only select Kubota and select Kubota performance-matched Land Pride equipment is eligible. Inclusion of ineligible equipment may result in a higher blended A.P.R. Not available for Rental, National Accounts or Governmental customers. 0% A.P.R. and low rate financing may not be available with customer instant rebate (C.I.R.) offers. Financing is available through Kubota Credit Corporation, U.S.A., 3401 Del Amo Blvd., Torrance, CA 90503; subject to credit approval. Some exceptions apply. Offer expires 10/31/2012. See us for details on these and other low-rate options or go to www.kubota.com for more information.
